

THE SOLAR ECLIPSE

ILLUSTRATION BY EVAN M. COHEN FOR THE WASHINGTON POST

How to find the glasses you need to safely view the total solar eclipse — and how to avoid the fakes F2 • Come rain or shine, the eclipse is on its way. Where can we expect fair skies? F3 • Most Americans will experience a partial eclipse, but a total eclipse is something totally different F4 • A lucky town in Illinois is in the path of totality for the second time in a decade F6 • While Earth enjoys an eclipse, a NASA probe is ready to “touch the sun” F7
